Foreword

Manfred Werfel, WAN-IFRA Deputy CEO

67 publications, newspaper and magazines, produced by 54 publishing and printing companies in 20 countries have achieved membership in the International Color Quality Club (ICQC) for two years.

Once every two years since 1994 the World Association of Newspapers and News Publishers, WAN-IFRA, has offered newspapers worldwide an opportunity to demonstrate their colour printing excellence by organising a print-quality competition. In the 23rd edition WAN-IFRA has opened the competition to magazines because many publishing and printing companies are no longer printing only newspapers but magazines as well. The competition has been organised by the World Printers Forum (WPF), the print community within WAN-IFRA. 121 publications from all over the world participated in this year's competition. The qualified International Color Quality Club members are listed on pages 8 and 9 in alphabetic order.

Club membership is offered to all companies who have successfully produced high-quality print publications consistently over an extended time-period by following international printing standards. The quality evaluation is composed of two parts – an evaluation based on objective measurements made on a print test element (WAN-IFRA "Cuboid") that participants had to print every day of a specified week per month for a period of three months; and a visual inspection of the general print quality by a jury of international newspaper experts. Participating companies had to meet the defined quality criteria and print without quality defects. This competition rewards those companies that not only print within approved international standards but also establish a fool-proof system for print production.

By their successful participation in the competition, the companies have demonstrated that they can supply printing in outstanding quality and offer readers and advertisers high-quality products. The Color Quality Club is more than a technical printing competition, as it offers participating companies the additional possibility to benchmark their printing quality against recognised international standards and improve it.

Star Club

The Star Club has been inaugurated at IFRA exhibition in Hamburg in 2010. Membership is presented to a printing company in recognition of outstanding printing quality if it achieves five or more stars by participating successfully in the International Color Quality Club or by obtaining WAN-IFRA certification for standardised printing.

One Star is awarded for each successful ICQC participation in a competition year, independent of the number of successful entries. Two Stars are awarded for the successful WAN-IFRA certification of a printing plant. Certification is valid for two years, after which it can be renewed.

The successful participation in the International Color Quality Club is already a great achievement. But to successfully prove consistently high print quality over many years is what distinguishes those printers who provide their customers with only the best print products. This year 13 new members are joining the Star Club "hall of fame", which now counts 49 members in total. On page 3 you find the list of new members in alphabetic order; a complete list of members is available at the end of this brochure.

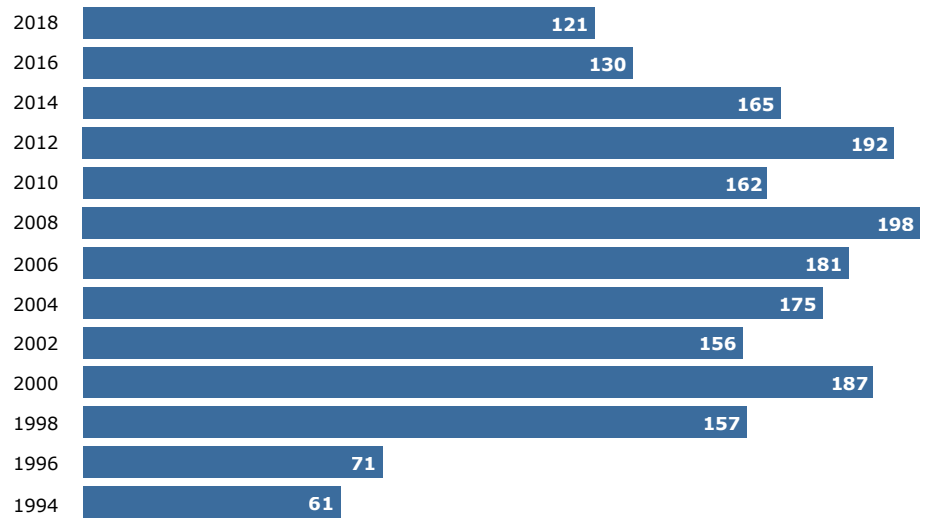

Development of the International Color Quality Club

After a peek in 2008 of almost 200 participating publications, participation declined to 121 in the actual competition.

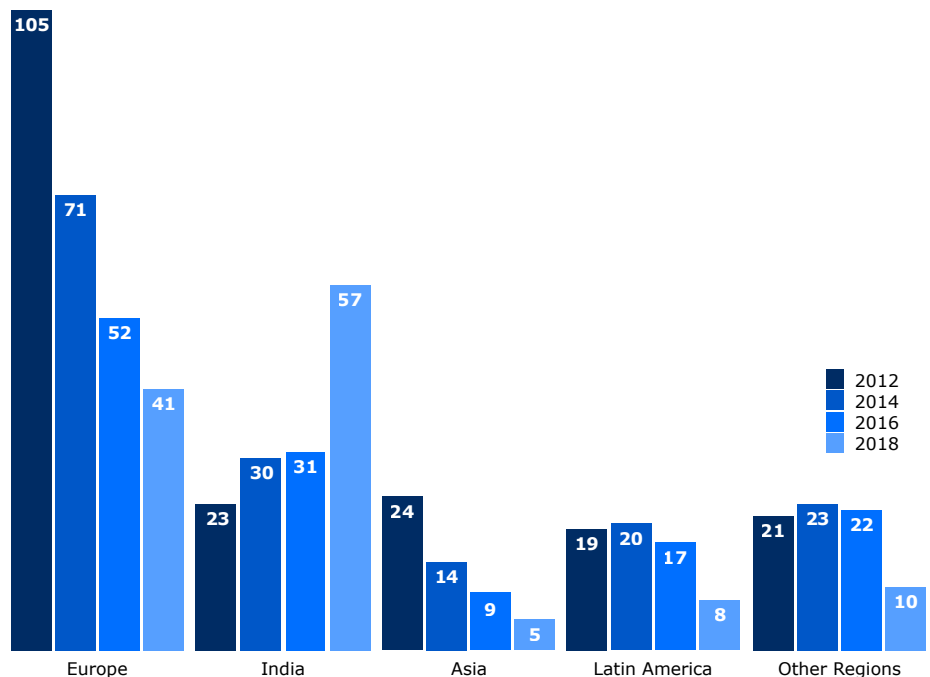

Participation declined or stagnated in all regions except in India. See the graph for information on the development of ICQC participation in different regions from 2012 to today.

Thanks to the great work of our South Asian team the Indian figures bypassed the European ones in 2018. In 2018 we unfortunately had no participants from North America and Oceania.

Number of ICQC participants over time

Number of ICQC participants from different regions

This may reflect the situation in the printing departments and companies in some regions:

- Shrinking number of printing plants
- Changing priorities in printing companies
- Less qualified personnel (quality assurance teams)
- Lower budgets

The positive development of the ICQC in India is also driven by the fact that large publishers are using the evaluation as a way to benchmark their print centres and to achieve consistently high print quality over time but also across regional markets.

I AM...

CONGRATULATING THE WINNERS OF THE ICQC 2018-2020

- Color control
- Dampening control
- Register control (incl. fan-out)
- Fault detection

IDS-3D

The double sensors and build-in microprocessors make IDS-3D multifunctional in a revolutionary manner. A unique patented image based solution that combines color and register control in one camera and that can also be configured for detecting production failures. All functionalities are executed with joint intelligence and without the need for register marks or color bars.

A great example of this approach was the participation of the publishing company Jagati this year. Jagati Publications Ltd, an Indian language newspaper publisher headquartered in Hyderabad, has registered all their 22 printing centres and bagged membership for all their printing plants in the International Color Quality Club contest.

This was the first time in the history of the ICQC that a publication has registered all its print centres and won membership to all of them.

Jagati Publications was established in the year 2008, with 22 branches started on the same day of the inauguration. Jagati publishes the daily newspaper “Sakshi” in Telugu language, spoken in Andhra Pradesh and Telangana states of India. They have an average circulation of 1.1 million copies per day.

Jagati uses Indian made printing presses in all their print centres, equipped with auto registration systems and some of them with closed-loop inking system. The printing presses are of 2/1 type (single-wide), with four towers and one folder configuration, and run at average speed of around 40,000 copies per hour. The presses are around ten years old.

Mr. P V K Prasad, Director-Operations said: “The planning and execution team led by T K Suresh, Chief General Manager, and B Gowri Sankar, General Manager, have worked tremendously on the 3M concept (Men, Machine & Material) and worked without compromising on any single element associated with this project”. Prasad also praised that their main objective was to standardise and improve their print quality uniformly and consistently across all the 22 printing centres.

This was achieved by developing an internal quality program called “SIQ” (Sakshi Internal Quality), which also helped in contesting and winning the ICQC 2018–2020. He added: “It helps us to satisfy all our esteemed advertisers with our world-class print standards from all our print centres across the states of Telangana and Andhra Pradesh”.

Since 1996 I had the honour and the pleasure to be involved in the organisation of the International Color Quality Club. Today, ICQC project manager Prabhu Natrajan and research engineer Jaiganesh Muniasamy manage this project. I thank my colleagues for their commitment and successful work!

Delo d.o.o., Slovenia

DELO, Ljubljana

Delo, d.o.o., is the largest newspaper print publishing house in Slovenia. It covers more than 55-percent of the Slovenian newspaper market. Some 180 journalists with support from 220 technical staff publish the dominant national daily newspaper Delo (circulation 40,000–60,000 copies), the tabloid newspaper Slovenske novice (average circulation 70,000–90,000 copies) and others (Sobotna Priloga, NeDelo, Delo & Dom, Ona, ...). Delo began with color printing in 1994 and became a member of the International Newspaper Color Quality Club for the first time in 1998. This happened after ISO 12647-1, 2 and 3 standards had been applied. Until now Delo has become member of the ICQC ten times.

The editorial, advertisement and prepress system is digital, supporting publishing and production of all above publications. Reproduction is locally driven through Adobe CC Suite software, auto image enhancement software Claro Premedia (Elpical) in accordance with ISO-specification and relative ICC-profiles. Main document workflow is created with solutions of ACCSHS (PuzzleFlow), OneVision (Asura) and RTI RIP (Harlequin). Our production system comprises two thermal CTP-systems (Creo Trendsetters). Most of our publications (newspapers and magazines) are printed with heatset-offset technique using Uniset 70 – semi-commercial web-offset press, which was installed in 1999. The Uniset 70 prints 6000 hours a year. Most of our newspapers are printed in Colorman 4/4 web press. Both, Mueller Martini and Ferag equipment is used for the daily delivery

The Mittelbayerische Zeitung is based in Regensburg, Germany. Since its establishment in 1945 the publishing company has been a family-owned business. Today, it is managed by Mr Peter Esser and Mr Thomas Esser as Managing Partners, representing the third generation of the publisher family. Over the past decades, society in general, the media landscape and the culture of information have undergone radical changes. That is the environment in which the publishing company operates. A large number of publishing products and services form the daily offering of local, regional and national information for the citizens of this East Bavarian region.

With its 13 regional editions and approximately 400,000 readers a day, the Mittelbayerische Zeitung is the number 1 media product in the Upper Palatinate and Lower Bavaria regions, centred in Regensburg, the newspaper's circulation area spans roughly 130 km (80 miles) from East to West and 145 km (90 miles) from North to South. The printing centre employs approximately 30 staff to produce a wide range of print products. Almost 3,500 employees work to distribute the daily newspaper and advertising journals. Every day, the printing centre handles extraordinarily high printing volumes. The daily newspaper is published from Monday through Saturday with an average circulation of 120,000 copies per day. Using our cutting-edge printing press we are able to print 45,000 four-color copies per hour comprising up to 72 pages.

Apart from the newspaper, the company produces a range of other local media products, such as Die Rundschau, the publisher's advertising journal with its seven editions and a wide range of special publications with a yearly circulation of more than 54 million copies. Newspapers and advertising journals are equipped with inserts (approx. 300 million p. a) in fully-automatic mode and with particular focus on the relevant target groups. In addition, the company produces high-quality inserts for third-party customers with a circulation of 264 million copies per year. This offering is rounded off by our online news site, our business newspaper and our glossy magazines with their exciting content. Our participation in this context was motivated by the desire to permanently review and optimize our internal and external processes from data reception through to printing operations. Since we produce a large number of high-quality inserts for third-party customers, we were also motivated by the prospect of achieving an external quality certificate with strong reputation.

In onze provincie evenveel speed pedelecs als in heel Nederland

voor snelle fiets

In de provincie Antwerpen rijden er veel meer speed pedelecs rond, elektrische fietsen die snelheden tot 45 kilometer per uur halen, dan elders in het land. Met nu al 4.032 exemplaren, tegenover 2.133 in Oost-Vlaanderen, 948 in West-Vlaanderen en 281 in heel Wallonië. De provincie Antwerpen telt daarmee evenveel supersnelle fietsen als heel Nederland. "Het aantal speed pedelecs is bij ons verdrievoudigd in een jaar tijd", zegt parlements lid en verkeersexpert Jef Van den Bergh (CD&V) uit Kalmthout, die de cijfers opvroeg. De grote verklaring: files in en rond Antwerpen. "Pendelaars zien snelle e-bikes steeds vaker als een echt alternatief voor de auto."

The Neue Vorarlberger Tageszeitung (NEUE) was founded in 1972 as an alternative to the Vorarlberger Nachrichten. Since 1990, NEUE has belonged to Russmedia and is one of the few dailies in Europe to be published from Tuesday to Sunday. Styria was involved with the paper before it was acquired by publisher Eugen A. Russ. These years gave rise to a still-existing cooperation with the Styrian Kleine Zeitung. This newspaper provides key content (politics, international) and some content for the business and sports sections.

NEUE is published in a handy small format and is popular on account of its quality regional and national journalism. Its subjects include answers to current questions and fascinating portraits of celebrities and everyday citizens. Its extensive sports coverage on the weekend is also particularly popular.

Grüne wollen in Tirol weiter mitregieren
Landeshauptmann Günther Platter (ÖVP) lässt im Tiroler Wahlkampf noch alle offen. Die Grünen hoffen darauf, weiter mitregieren zu können. Ihre Parteichefin Ingrid Fehrer spricht von einem Aufbruchmoment, bei dem Wahl, wemgleich die Grünen ein Bundesratsmandat verloren haben. Die FPÖ erwägt unterdessen, eine Neuausrichtung der Stimmen zu beantragen. Grund ist, dass das zweite Mandat der Neos nur mit 16 Stimmen abgesichert ist. Dieses könnte eine FPÖ stellen, sollte sich ein Fehler herausstellen.

Süddeutscher Verlag Zeitungsdruck GmbH, Germany

Süddeutsche Zeitung, München

Süddeutsche Zeitung is published by Süddeutscher Verlag, one of Germany's leading media companies. Its print circulation of more than 350.000 copies on weekdays and more than 480.000 copies on weekends makes it the country's largest opinion-shaping newspaper. With an average page count of more than 70 pages (up to 100 on the weekend), is published in full color, with a main product comprising up to 48 pages as well as different daily topical and non-topical preprints. The edition for Germany is printed in five locations: Munich, Berlin, Frankfurt, Essen and Hamburg. The editions for all of Bavaria and just for Munich are produced at the company's own printing plant in Munich. The installation in Munich includes three Agfa Advantage HighSpeed systems, six 48-page manroland Colorman 43 presses with 4-high towers, one 32-page KBA Commander press, five Ferag Multidisc inserting lines and an automatic wind-on storage system supplied by CTI.

Besides the newspaper title Süddeutsche Zeitung, other publications such as BILD, Die Welt, Frankfurter Allgemeine Zeitung, Handelsblatt as well as various Munich free sheets are produced at the SV printing plant. Up to six million copies are produced every week. The average paper consumption is about 45.000 tonnes per year. The WAN-IFRA ICQC competition 2018 was successfully realised with a group of young ordinary printers, called "Quality-Scouts" who are supervised by their own in-house trainer. Beneath regular trainings, which are carried out at SV Zeitungsdruck to improve quality, there have been conducted special workshops in order to be well-prepared for the requests of the ICQC. The success of achieving membership in the ICQC shows that SVZD is on the right track with the idea to give "Quality-Scouts" more specialist knowledge and responsibility for quality-topics in common.

The Mathrubhumi Printing & Publishing Co Ltd, India

The Mathrubhumi Daily, Thrissur

Mathrubhumi is one of the front-runners among the Malayalam newspapers. The first copy of Mathrubhumi was published on 18th of March 1923 -- the day before the first anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi's arrest for the first time by the British police. Led by K.P.Kesava Menon, the prominent freedom fighter, as Editor and K. MadhavanNair as Managing Director, Mathrubhumi was envisaged for spreading the message of the great National Movement. In the beginning, the paper was published a week and had just one edition from Kozhikode (Calicut). A newspaper born out of relentless passion of freedom fighters, Mathrubhumi went on to become an inalienable part of Kerala's social fabric.

Now with sixteen editions- ten in Kerala, ones in New Delhi, Mumbai, Bangaluru, Chennai, Dubai and Doha- it has an impressive circulation of over 1.5 million copies.
